

Chad A. Neel

Chief Executive Officer
McCarthy Holthus, LLP

Chad A. Neel is the Chief Executive responsible for McCarthy Holthus, LLP and its affiliate businesses. McCarthy Holthus is one of the largest law firms serving the mortgage services industry, with offices in ten states. The firm represents over 170 total clients and all top twenty mortgage service providers. Founded in 1999, the firm is a recognized leader in its market space.

Mr. Neel has over twenty five years of experience in the mortgage industry, with experience running multiple business lines from technology startup companies to large national service providers including Appraisal Management Companies (AMC), Asset Management, Auction, Escrow/Closing Management, Field Services, Legal Services, and National Title. He has been involved in several startup businesses and serves on the executive and/or advisory boards of various companies.

In the early 2000's Mr. Neel was CEO of a company that had introduced and patented the first electronic trading exchange for pricing and locking loans online. The company went on to develop private label technology allowing mortgage lenders to have their own private trading applications. He then worked over ten years running multiple businesses for Fidelity National Financial/Lender Processing Services, with success in turning around troubled businesses and handling monthly volumes that exceeded a million service transactions per month. These companies innovated business process and technology solutions necessary to manage volumes that had not been seen prior to the great recession.
