

Rajesh Bhat

CEO & Co-Founder

Rajesh Bhat is the CEO and Co-Founder of Roostify. A proven innovator and technologist, Rajesh had the vision to create an easier and more efficient way of securing a loan and purchasing a home. Thus, he created Roostify back in 2012 to provide Americans with increased transparency, simplicity, and a better experience in the home lending process. Today, Roostify processes over $30B in loans monthly as it drives forward the digital revolution in home lending.

Prior to Roostify, Rajesh spent 14 years in management consulting, where he worked as a Senior Consultant at Pace Hermon, Capgemini, and Ernst & Young. As a Senior Consultant, he supported technology sourcing advisory services, IT strategy, support chain process, program and vendor management, and IT/supply chain M&A synergy. He also assisted numerous deals for Fortune 500 companies ranging from $20 million to $1 billion in total contract value. Rajesh graduated with his Bachelors in Computer Science from Washington University in St. Louis.
