

Dawn Svedberg is the Head of Fintech Product at Tavant. As a leading global Fintech software and solutions provider for more than 20 years, Tavant’s VELOX POS solutions support the Consumer, LO, Wholesale, Broker, Retail, Consumer Direct, Correspondent, Non QM and Home Equity all on one platform. In addition, Tavant’s VELOX Touchless Lending is a next-level platform that provides the ultimate LOS and POS agnostic modules to help lenders automate the remaining time-consuming and costly manual processes.

Dawn has held leadership roles with many leading companies over her 30 year career including Bank of America, CoreLogic and Stewart. She has published recent industry articles and was named a “Most Powerful Woman in FinTech” in 2022. She has always focused on helping lenders automate manual processes to improve efficiency, customer experience, revenue and turn times. She cares deeply about mentoring women and new entrants into our industry. Dawn has been involved in many industry organizations and believes that the shared ideas and community becomes ever more relevant as we move through challenging market cycles
