

Houlihan Lokey

JENNIFER FULLER
MANAGING DIRECTOR

Ms. Fuller is a Managing Director in Houlihan Lokey’s Financial Services Group. She has two decades of financial institutions investment banking experience and has overseen numerous M&A transactions and debt and equity transactions across the financial services landscape. Ms. Fuller’s coverage focus includes residential and commercial mortgage finance companies and mortgage REITs. She is based in the firm’s New York office.

Prior to joining Houlihan Lokey, Ms. Fuller led housing and mortgage finance investment banking coverage for Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc., where she spent 10 years. Before that, she spent nearly a decade at Stifel, also as a financial services investment banker. Ms. Fuller was recently mentioned as one of the “Most Influential Women in Mid-Market M&A” by Mergers & Acquisitions and has previously been recognized as a winner of The M&A Advisor’s “Emerging Leader Awards.”

Ms. Fuller holds a B.S.B.A. with majors in Finance, Political Science, and International Business from Washington University in St. Louis.

